Backgrounds

Background Only	Mock Up Thumbnail	Client Feedback
		My client like the green background as it stimulate balances and refreshing feeling when looking at the website. Also the website will be focus on plants and cells, to green would be suitable for the scheme.
		The combination of yellow and green is ok for the background but usually yellow color is associated with warm and energizing so it often used for toys selling website.
		My client quite like this cell background as it have a good contrast on the layouts, but there are more color introduced into the website . But it's good to have a image about things related to what students will learn in class.
		This is another background that my client like. The green colour is relaxing calming sensation to look at and since the background is about plant cells, it will let users know directly when they go on, the site is about biology study.

		This background really separate itself from other contents in the page. Brown is associated with natural or organic things because people think of the earth and nature when they see it.
		This background shows calming and tranquil effect and darker shades of blue stimulate the mind into thinking more clearly when users visit. It also contrast clearly form the rest of the site's contents.

This is the final choice from my client but more develops might be add in or the choice might change later on.
